Questions 157-159 refer to the following excerpt from an article

Recently, more attention has been paid to a topic that in the past was often ignored: mental illness in the workplace. Because the mental health of employees can affect a company's profits, more employers are increasing their mental health coverage. One example is Speedy Autos. It has started a program that allows its workers to speak with a trained counselor for free. Even though it's only over the phone, they can call as frequently as they want. In addition, they can have three face-to-face counseling sessions at no charge. The company also trains managers to deal with employees with personal problems.

But, most companies' mental health coverage still lags far behind their coverage of physical ailments. Many- health plans limit the number of times an employee can see a mental health provider. In these cases, employees were four times more likely to quit than if their company offered unlimited access. Despite recent improvements, many workers who suffer from mental problems still don't want to tell their employers for fear that they won't understand. However, companies that are willing to make the effort to accommodate their workers will benefit from the increased loyalty the employees show

157. What is mentioned about Speedy Autos?
(A) It doesn't take its workers' mental health seriously.
(B) It has improved condition of its workplace.
(C) It offers excellent mental health coverage.
(D) It cares about physical health more than mental health.

158. According to the article, what might a company with limited mental health coverage experience?
(A) An unhealthy workforce
(B) The frequent loss of employees
(C) Little chance of recruiting qualified applicants
(D) An ineffective work process

159. According to the article, what are employees with mental illnesses reluctant to do?
(A) Disclose their problems to colleagues
(B) File lawsuits against the company
(C) Report their condition to employers
(D) Seek the help of specialists or therapy

Chicago, IL 60626
(312) 555-7845

Dear sir,

I am a subscriber to your basic cable plan, which includes all local stations, children's channels. and CineOn. The regular fee for this service is $25 a month. However, I noticed that on my recent billing statement for June, I was charged $45. From what I understand, this is the fee that is normally charged for the Premier Service Plan. If you check your records, you will see that since signing up for your service eight months ago, I have had only the basic plan.

In the time that I've been a customer of City Cable, I've had no problems with either my cable or the service from your company. I would like to continue to be a customer of City Cable but first I would like your company to correct the billing statement and send it to me as soon as possible. If you need any more information from me, I can be reached at (312) 555-2356. Thank you for your help.

Sincerely,

Joseph Franks

Questions 176-180 refer to the following interview in a sports magazine

An interview with the senior manager of a swim team

Interviewed by Maria Cohen

Maria Cohen: So, tell me, what does it take to do your job?
Evelyn Art: Well, I'm in charge of scheduling practices and the athletes' health, but I also have to ensure the team's motivated. In addition, I oversee their diets as well. I keep track of what they eat and design nutritional plans to keep them in top shape. Most people are stunned when they see all of the different work I'm responsible for.

Maria Cohen: How did you get involved in swimming?
Evelyn Art: I've always loved the water, and I was a swimmer in college. After I got injured, I couldn't compete. so I started managing a local team.

Maria Cohen: How do you feel about your job?
Evelyn Art: I really enjoy the challenges it presents more than the success I've had. That's what really motivates me. My parents, on the other hand, were a bit disappointed at first since they wanted me to follow in their footsteps and become a surgeon. But, I was never any good at biology and chemistry.

Maria Cohen: Do you have any regrets?
Evelyn Art: One thing is that I get to go abroad, but I never get to do any sightseeing because I'm always with the athletes. I really wish I spend more time in the cities I visit. I also plan to go back to school and study sports psychology to help me better understand my swimmers.

176. Why are most people surprised about Evelyn Art's work with athletes?
(A) It allows time for other interests.
(B) it includes many different duties.
(C) It involves business management.
(D) It requires certification as a dietician.

177. According to the interview, what is NOT a responsibility of Evelyn Art?

From: Susan Austen
To: Judy king -
Date: June 5
Subject: The small conference in Shanghai
Train.doc (45 KB)

Dear Judy,

I have searched for the trains to the conference in Shanghai, and I enclosed what I have found with this letter. (See Attachment) Taking a bus to Shanghai is not a convenient way even though it is cheaper than taking a train, since we would have to transfer several times on city buses after taking the bus, which would take a long time. Why don't we take a train directly to Shanghai? Also, the evening train would be ideal. We would have a whole day to see the city before the conference starts the next day. Please consider my suggestion and let me know what you prefer.

Furthermore, reservation for hotel is necessary. It will be convenient to stay at the sane hotel where the conference is being held, but the conference organizer informed me that the Shanghai Grande Hotel does not have vacancies left until the beginning of August.

Therefore. I suggest Ramada Hotel and Diamond Hotel because these are located within walking distance. If they are full. there is the Hilton Shanghai Hotel. Would you arrange a hotel room for us? The conference is from July 19 to 23. but we should try to arrive in Shanghai on July 18 and leave on July 24.

Best regards,
Susan Auster

Questions 196-200 refer to the following report

The legal dispute between Frecopy and Dwean has yet to reach a conclusion. Talks between each side's legal representatives have been ensuing for about a month now. They were close to a settlement about a week ago but have since slid back from their earlier talks due to new information that has been released by the FDA. The FDA announced the discovery of a substance in both companies' migraine medication mix that exceeds the daily recommended amount by 12%.

The major area of dispute is that Frecopy claims that they legally licensed the use of the main substances from Dwean to make the medication for minors; however, they claim they were unaware of the legal dosage required under the FDA regulations since Dwean is the main applicant with the FDA. However, Dwean claims Frecopy was fully aware of the legal dosage in talks prior to the actual licensing agreement signing.

Recently, analysts have downgraded both companies in their equity reports and say that the two companies should proceed with caution and do their best to work out a settlement with the FDA and each other quickly and quietly. Any long, dragged out, legal disputes with the FDA and the state prosecutor's office could truly hurt both companies. long-term profitability.

196. What is the report mainly about?
(A) The merging of two major medical companies
(B) The FDA and its new policy
(C) The ensuing legal battle between two firms
(D) The licensing process for a new medicine

197. According to the report, what has caused the talks to take a step back?
(A) The disagreement over the name of their new product
(B) The surfacing of new information
(C) The lawyers on both sides not liking each other
(D) The legality issue of the licensing process

198. What did the FDA announce?
(A) A new policy regarding the licensing of new medicines
(B) A new product for migraine headaches
(C) A violation of its standard usage
(D) A signing of a new licensing agreement

199. What do the analysts advise the companies to do?
(A) Drag out the legal dispute for as long as they can
(B) Replace their legal representatives
(C) Settle their differences in a subtle manner
(D) Reduce the medication mix by 12%

200. The phrase "dragged out" in paragraph 3, line 3 is closest in meaning to
(A) prolonged
(B) amplified
(C) built up
(D) agitated
